

	Fields of Study	General Information	Language(s) of Instruction	Scholarship Information	Eligibility	Deadlines	Contact Information
Academic Institution / Foundation / Programme
The Friedrich Ebert Foundation Scholarships 	In its graduate and post-graduate programmes the FES supports students and academics with outstanding qualifications from abroad for whom an academic education is not only a first step in their professional career but expresses their commitment to democracy, the State and society. In its supplementary seminar programme the FES aims at building bridges between science and its practical application and at creating a better understanding about the purpose and the nature of democracy and social policy.	Friedrich Ebert Stiftung, Bonn and Berlin, Germany, MA, PhD	German	Scholarships for students from abroad (particularly from developing countries) who wish to study at universities and colleges in Germany. About 1,700 students received a scholarship in 2005, 270 of them from abroad. Over 400 new scholarships were awarded that same year. The Foundation awards up to 40 scholarships annually, notably to people from Eastern and Middle European countries. The scholarship amount is not precised.	All countries	For the deadline, please consult the country related website	http://www.fes.de http://www.fes.de/moe/in_moe/moe_so.htm